Brookland Arts Walk includes artist studios and shops, as well as a farmers market that's open on weekends. During non-pandemic times, the Art Walk offered a weekly open studio event, which is a nice opportunity to pursue the inventory of the artists and to learn more about their practices.

Yogis and yoga-curious can catch a yoga class at Bluebird Sky Yoga, which is part gallery, part yoga studio. The studio not only offers classes daily and community classes (weather permitting) outside at the Art Walk and elsewhere, but also has a rotating art exhibition with a quarterly art talk and wine tasting. It is a unique and accessible way to meet local artists and connect with other collectors and art enthusiasts.
