

CARDOZO-SHAW

(U STREET HISTORIC DISTRICT)

Jônt offers a 16-course tasting menu presented by a team of chefs who seek to raise the culinary bar. They have proven themselves with locals and travelers alike, and their gastro-explorations have earned the restaurant two Michelin stars.

Foundry Gallery is an artist-owned gallery offering a wide array of art, especially focused on giving attention to promising new artists. Founded in 1971, Foundry is one of the longest running galleries in the city.

Lettie Gooch is a Black-woman owned eclectic boutique offering unique Women's clothing, jewelry, and gifts.

Zawadi African Arts is as intimate as it is unique. Selling African arts of all kinds, from textiles to clothing, and earrings to sculptures, Zawadi is a resource for modern and classic African collectibles.

Sit down to dinner with live jazz or blues at JoJo Restaurant

1904 14th Street NW
<https://www.jontdc.com/>

2118 8th Street NW
<https://www.foundrygallery.org/>

2128 8th Street, NW
<https://www.lettiegooch.com/>

524 U Street, NW
<https://zawadiarts.com/>

1518 U Street, NW
<https://www.jojodc.com/>
 (Closed Monday and Tuesday)

JoJo Restaurant and Bar

2001 15th Street Northwest

1358 U Street Northwest

2118 8th Street Northwest
 2128 8th Street Northwest

524 U Street Northwest

U Street Mural Tour

While you are on the 15th and U block, check out the street art.

- Ruth Bader Ginsburg mural by Rose Jaffe (1508 U St)
- Meet Me at the Dunbar (Paul Laurence Dunbar) mural by Cory Stowers (1506 U St)
- Gagged Washington by Aniekan Udofia and Liz Brown (1502 U St)
- Connectivity also by Aniekan Udofia (2001 15th St)
- Wailing Mailman: A Portrait of Buck Hill, DC's famous saxophonist mailman (1925 14th St)

Hamiltonian Artists is a premier exhibition space that promotes distinguished emerging artists and runs a fellowship program, as well as provides programming for the artist community.

1358 U Street NW
<https://www.hamiltonianartists.org/>

Howard Theater was the largest colored theater in the world at its opening in 1910, and provided a space for the very best Black artists of the era. The Theater was fully restored in 2012 and continues to provide live performance.

620 T Street NW
<https://www.thehowardtheatre.com/>

Follow the Murals DC Mural tour at:
<https://muralsdcproject.com/u-street-corridor-walking-tour/>